*Michael Molloy's multi-dimensional examination of religions combined with Connect Religion's skills-based activities provides an intimate learning experience for students experiencing the world's religions. Integrated program supports today's students and provides skills that extend beyond the introduction to religion course, engaging both non-majors and majors in the subject. The goal of the 6th edition is to better meet the introduction to religion course challenges of building student engagement, developing critical analysis skills, and building writing skills. The 6th edition of Experiencing the World's Religions continues to include primary sources, current examples, and coverage of women to ensure students are introduced to unfamiliar religions in ways that are accessible, inviting, and intriguing. Experiencing these concepts and cultures is the hallmark of Michael Molloy's approach. His pedagogy and activities are now fully integrated and assessable within Connect Religion to make for an increased understanding of the most important and memorable elements of each religion. Writing activities in Connect Religion, tied to chapter narrative, offer students the chance to develop their critical analysis skills and put their informed opinions on religion into writing. The result is greater student engagement and greater course success. Since the terrorist attacks on 9/11, the political roles of religious institutions and groups have captured international attention. This book examines how religious institutions and organizations in various Asian countries are influencing democratic development and the shaping of government policies. Religious organizations and democratization covers Taiwan, Hong Kong, Mainland China, Korea, Thailand, the Philippines, Malaysia, Indonesia, and Japan. The chapters specifically address the engagement of Christian, Buddhist, Muslim, and other religious organizations in the advancement and/or hindrance of democratization in the region. The contributors consider such questions as: Why have some religious organizations played a decisive role in democratic transitions while others remained politically dormant and other still acted in conservative alliances to block democratic development? Why did some religious organizations that once were active and instrumental to democratic change lose their political vitality as soon as civil liberties were successfully introduced? And why did other religious organizations, irrespective of their roles in the process of democratic transition, emerge as key political forces in the civil society?

An Introduction to Religious and Theological Studies walks students through topical issues to be encountered in the study of the Abrahamic religions: Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. As these religions encounter other religions in the context of the wider ecumenism, the text is written from a Christian point of view and aims at helping students understand that to be Christian is to be ecumenical. African traditional religions, ATRs, has been included in this survey to provide background for the religious traditions and cultures of peoples of Africa as Christianity moves inexorably southward. The book has been written with undergraduate general education students in mind, including meeting the needs of those in seminaries and theological institutes.

*A much anticipated new addition to the very popular and practical book series that answers real questions on key topics in contemporary Christianity, Islam is one of the most significant forces shaping the world today. But most Christians are confused about its key beliefs and practices. Many wonder about the apparent similarities and obvious differences between Christianity and Islam and want to reach out to Muslim friends or neighbors with the Gospel but don't know where to begin. Having spent several years living in North Africa and the Middle East, Missions Professor Matthew Bennett guides readers through Islam's key tenants and provides answers to critical questions such as: Who was Muhammad and what was his message? Do Muslims and Christians worship the same God? What are the differences between the Qur'an and the Bible? What is Shariah law? What is the Islamic view of salvation? What happens in the mosque?
